

I feel very strongly that consolidation of ownership of our media is a disaster. As a democracy relying on education of the public, we must have diversified sources of information and opinion. Balance is critical. FCC protection and regulation is critical.